Flagpole Dedication, Beautification Contest Winners

Sunday ceremonies saw a U. S. flag presented to Mayor Lawrence Zots by U. A. Crow, representing Woodmen of the World. The flag pole for O. J. Thomas Park was dedicated Sunday and winners in the West Side beautification contest were announced. Some of the winners here include, from left, Ira Canady Jr., Martha Patterson, Elmer Young, and Evalena Knight. In the background are Councilwoman Jan Luecke and Gene F. Blake, of Coca-Cola Bottling Co., which sponsored the awards.

DICHOTOMOUS DISCOURSE...

A dichotomy is, to quote Funk & Wagnalls, a state of being divided in two; division into two parts or into two branches.

The definition fits a comment concerning this newspaper's editorials and columns.

One staffer noted one reader says he (or she), I don't know which, is not always in agreement, but commonly comes to the same conclusions.

Which is to say the politics of the moment may be different, but the logic is irrevocably the same. Which defines dichotomy, division but not necessarily any break.

Once enacted, dichotomous conclusions tend to restore unity and break off the unnecessary branch, as in evolution, the unneeded tail, the pointless molars, the valueless appendix.

In a phrase, it is possible for opposites to establish a third point and a plane on almost any subject.

The story is Alcoa is re-ranking another potline and by July will be reinstating perhaps 80 or more employees to fulltime jobs.

A stockpile of aluminum ingots is going down, and the first of two potlines down for more than a year will be refired.

That recession of 1975 is fast fading in memory, though in fact it never affected Central Texas as much as the metro areas in the Southwest, Midwest, and Northeast.

Not more than a year ago, Alcoa was budgeting closely to keep the shutdown at the two-potline minimum. Alcoa facilities in Point Comfort were about three-fourths shut down.

We are talking about 2,000 jobs in all. And when the big employers of Texas restore 80 to 100 new jobs, the rest of the employment picture is adjusting upward at least as well.

Crash Program Underway For Tagging Dogs

A crash program to have all dogs in the city vaccinated and tagged with a city license is now underway, according to E. A. Bigbee, code enforcement officer.

A city dog license costs $1 and may be obtained at city hall. The city dog ordinance requires that pets be vaccinated and the vet's certificate presented when applying for a license. No license will be issued without a vaccination certificate.

Bigbee said an animal control department is being set up under the supervision of the Chief of Police, with instructions to enforce the ordinance.

Upon payment of the license fee, the city secretary will issue to the dog owner a license certificate and a metal tag for the dog. The shape of the tag is changed each year and shall have stamped on it the year in which it was issued.

Every owner is required to provide a suitable collar for the dog with the tag securely attached.

Bigbee said seven cases of rabid skunks were found in and around Cameron last year "so don't say it can't happen here."

Failure to comply with the ordinance is a misdemeanor and could bring a fine of up to $100, he said.

Alcoa Restarting Line

One of two aluminum production units idled last year at Alcoa's Rockdale Works by market conditions and metal oversupply will be restarted early next month, necessitating the employment of about 80 people, according to Alcoa Texas area manager Fred P. Bergeron.

About half of that number will come from the plant's layoff list, which will be depleted with the July start-up.

The Alcoa official said the reactivation of the unit will return Rockdale Works to about 92 percent of its rated capacity of 285,000 tons a year. Alcoa's system-wide primary operating rate will be about 80 percent with the additional production at Rockdale.

Bergeron estimated that plant employment will approach 1,600 with start-up of the seventh of Rockdale Works' eight potlines. In addition, there are 300 employed at Alcoa's adjacent lignite mining and power generating complex operated by Industrial Generating Company.

"Our employment group is busy processing applicants from throughout Central Texas," Bergeron said. "We are happy that all of our remaining laid off employees will be back at work, and are gearing up to commence the usual job and safety training for new people who will start coming in shortly."

Alcoa's Rockdale Works is the company's largest aluminum smelter.

Milam County Crops Tour To Feature New Sorghum Varieties

By Bill McCutchen
Milam Co. Exten. Ag.

Wilburn Beckhusen, Milam County Crops Committee chairman, has announced that the 1976 Milam County crops tour will be held Monday morning, June 28.

The tour will feature grain sorghum variety plots, including twin seeded grain sorghum; new cold tolerant disease and insect resistant cotton varieties; narrow row grain sorghum; and incorporate cotton herbicide demonstration; and farm pond weed control.

Beckhusen announced that the tour would meet at the Post Office in Cameron and leave from there at 8:30 a.m.

The twin-seeded grain sorghum is a preview of things to come. Last year twin-seeded sorghum in the variety plots produced 20% more than our best commercial varieties. Twin-seeded sorghum will probably be commonly grown in this area in the next few years.

Narrow row grain sorghum, where attention is paid to plant spacing and weed control, has proved to be a consistent method of increasing yields. Skip Hobbs is demonstrating that this year.

CAMD cotton varieties and some okra leaf-freight bract cottons will be viewed on the tour. Local demonstrators have planted the CAMD varieties for several years and find them to be cold tolerant, and high producers. Dr. Luther Bird of Texas A&M expects to release at least one of the CAMD varieties in the near future to seed breeders.

What's new in cotton weed control? Many yellow herbicides hit the market over the past couple of years and plots of these will be seen on the tour. Treflan, USB 3153, Basalin, Tolban, Amex 820, Prowl, and Cobex are in the test at varying rates.

Robert Goldt, County Entomologist for Milam County and Williamson County will be on hand to explain the cotton pest management program and to show off a new tool in predicting bollworm egg lay - the Moth AV trap.

The grain sorghum variety demonstrations on the tour are always of interest to producers. This has been the top money crop in the county for the last several years and the County Crops Committee evaluates new hybrids each year.

Also to be viewed and discussed is Aquazine, a new material from Ciba-Giegl for pond weed control.

Producers will also have the opportunity to visit with several A&M specialists: Dr. Walter Walla, plant pathologist; Dr. Charles Cole, entomologist; Dr. Dave Weaver, Weed Control specialist; Dr. Robert B. Metzger, cotton specialist; and Dr. John Bremer, grain sorghum specialist. In addition to this, several seed and chemical company representatives will be on the tour.

Beckhusen said the tour is open to all interested in Milam County agriculture.

Sen. Bentsen Praises Action On Estate Tax Changes

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said changes in the estate tax approved by the Senate Finance Committee will strengthen the family farm and ranch and the family owned business in Texas.

Bentsen, a member of the Finance Committee, had previously urged the Committee to favorably consider his legislation increasing the estate tax exemption to $200,000. He warned that excessive estate taxes are breaking up family farms and businesses in Texas by forcing the widows and children to sell their property.

The measure approved by the Committee includes portions of the bill offered by Bentsen and portions of measures proposed by other Senators.

It would replace the existing estate tax exemption with a $30,000 credit against the estate tax which would gradually increase to a $50,000 credit by 1981. This would be the equivalent of a $200,000 exemption as compared to the current exemption of $60,000.

"This very significant change would substantially ease the burden currently imposed by the estate tax," Senator Bentsen said.

"From all evidence the Federal inheritance tax is helping break up the family farm, ranch, and business and I am pleased that the Finance Committee has acted to remedy this problem."

The Committee bill includes provisions by Bentsen against artificially high land valuations that drive up the estate tax. It prohibits an existing Internal Revenue Service practice of assessing some farm land at its commercial rather than its agricultural value for estate tax purposes.

The head of the Independent Cattlemen's Association also hailed Senate committee passage of estate tax reform as a major step toward saving the nation's family farms and ranches.

Commissioners Grant Raise For Veterans Officer

County commissioners at a called meeting Monday morning went quickly over a fairly short agenda and will meet again next Monday to open bids.

Commissioners: Granted a $50 a month raise to Veterans Service Officer Porter Young.

Approved bond for recently appointed constable Maurice Lowrey.

Voted to pay Epperson Electric Co. $1,476 a year to service the county air conditioners and the electric doors at the county jail.

Voted to pay sheriff dispatchers salaries which have been paid in the past by the Manpower program.

Authorized bids to be let for a side-mounted mower for Pct. 2 and authorized Pct. 3 to advertise for bids on two new 2-ton trucks with dump beds.

Kubiak To Propose Tax-Saving Measure

AUSTIN

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale said Monday he will propose legislation when the next Legislature convenes that will save Texans almost $1 billion in local property taxes.

Kubiak predicted a "taxpayers' revolution" because property owners and citizens across the State "have suffered not only continuous but dramatic increases" in local property taxes during recent years.

Under Kubiak's proposal, the state would begin pickup up the portion of the Minimum Foundation Program for public education, a portion that is now paid entirely by local school districts. He said this local fund "share" totaled $985 million for the current and the upcoming school years.

While transferring this local cost to the State, Kubiak told a Capitol news conference his bill would guarantee that local taxpayers in school districts across this State will see their taxes go down.

"My legislation will mandate that each local school district must reduce its local taxes by an amount equal to their local fund assignment," Kubiak said. He added that school districts could decide for themselves whether to cut their tax rate, assessment ratio, or both but that "the bottom line that each taxpayer has to pay must be reduced."

Kubiak said the legislation for this mandatory tax reduction would be effective for one year only and would be funded from a portion of the more than $2 billion projected revenue surplus.

"About funding this plan in the future, beyond this surplus and beyond the next biennium, I would have every faith in the world that Texas' continued growing economy and its continued dollar volume growth in tax revenue can absorb this additional burden, providing the Legislature exercises restraint and good judgment in dictating the Minimum Foundation Program," Kubiak added.

Kubiak called criticism that the bill would destroy all local control of public education "hogwash."

"There should be and there will be a clear distinction between the actual allocation - that is to say, funding - and the controls on these funds," Kubiak answered. "Local school districts will still have the total authority and total power of the selection, retention, and promotion of the most important person working in public education - the teacher in the classroom."

Kubiak also said local ad valorem taxes could be levied to pay for buildings, capital improvements, and all other amenities, including teacher salary supplements, just like they are now under local enrichment programs.

"That means if the Dallas School District wants to build a junior high school in downtown Dallas, then let Downtown Dallas taxes pay for it," he added.

Day Care Center To Host Workshop

St. John's Day Care Center located at Summit and Hillcrest in Rockdale will host a child care workshop on Saturday, July 10, for area day care directors and staff, according to the director, Mrs. Verne Bland.

The workshop will begin at 9:30 a.m. and close at 2:30 p.m. Anyone interested in licensed day care is welcome, the director said.

The license may be obtained from the State Department of Public Welfare and is required by state law for those caring for children outside the child's home.

Many parents and early childhood experts recommend either a small group setting or individual care for very young children, the Welfare Department stated.

Texas has recently provided that people who care for children in their homes can be registered with a state agency for this kind of service. Before registration, the interested person is given a copy of the registration standards and is asked to review them and then certify that their homes meet the standards.

Parents who wish to use the registered home will also be given an opportunity to review the standards so that they may be satisfied that the home meets their requirements.

Being a registered family home protects the child in care, the parents of the child, and the provider of child care. For more information contact the State Department of Public Welfare, Licensing Division, P. O. Box 152, Rockdale, TX 76667.

14 Illegal Aliens Deported To Mexico

Fourteen illegal aliens from Mexico were arrested by city police Monday night in Cameron.

That Jones Boy...

Lampasan Johnny Jones, the high school senior who ran a 9.05 hundred a few months ago, may be on the U. S. Olympic sprint team in Montreal.

He finished fourth in the finals of the 100-meter race in the U. S. Olympic trials in Eugene, Ore.

That's quite a step from a AAA state track championship in Texas. But he's apparently quite a guy. And at 18, he has the future important to speedsters, youth.

Jones came out fourth at 10.23, running in three prior heats in the field of 42 sprinters.

Since the No. 3 finisher pulled a leg muscle in the finals, Jones may be moved to No. 3 and go to Montreal for the U. S. Houston McTear, co-holder of the world 100-yard dash record, won't be back in shape by July 17, when the Olympics start.

Jones has only been running with the heavy prospects of international competition for three months, following that incredible high school 100 yard time of 9.05. He was the youngest and least experienced by several years in the final six in U.S. trials.

One report says he was urged by his mother to work hard, starting when he first entered high school.

The natural gift of blinding speed and his commitment thus far make him the brightest prospect for future U.S. sprinters among the Olympians since Jesse Owen won the 100, the 200, the running broadjump, and the final leg of the 400 meters in the 1936 Olympics.

Cool' Accounting...

While Milam County awaits completion of its first outside audit, Bell County notes about three-quarters of a million county funds are unaccounted for.

Bell County Judge Harold Harris rules out embezzlement and believes the money, in effect, is "hidden" in figures yet to be unraveled.

An outside audit failed to produce the missing funds, the Judge says. He apparently knew of the shortage since last fall, but awaited the audit to confirm or deny. It apparently did neither.

Accountants are working their way through the myriad records of Milam Courthouse and Sheriff's Department, following a delay in May because of vacations.

It is difficult for us to understand how an audit would not explain the absence or displacement of $726,000, the estimate in Bell County.

We trust the Milam outside audit will provide County Commissioners confirmation of internal audits over the years by Milam auditors.

Bell County officials are keeping cool over accounting problems in Belton.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

AMNESTY LOBBY GEARS UP

Rep. John M. Ashbrook (Ohio)... The American left is revving up for an all-out drive to bring unconditional amnesty into the 1976 political campaign. In its recent publication, Amnesty Update, the leading pro-amnesty group, NCUA/AFI which is based at 235 East 49 Street in New York City, outlined their political action plan for universal unconditional amnesty, reconstruction aid for Communist Vietnam, diplomatic recognition for the new governments in Indo-China, and so forth.

"Many of the oldline Communist front and radical left groups have rallied behind this new cause and as usual, have enlisted the usual old and tried groups which follow their lead.

"The NCUA lists the following national organizations as affiliated with them in this cause:

American Civil Liberties Union; Catholic Peace Fellowship; Episcopal Peace Fellowship; Jewish Peace Fellowship; National Lawyers Guild; SANE: Southern Conference Educational Fund; War Resisters League; Women Strike for Peace; Women's International League for Peace and Freedom; Women's Division, United Methodist Church of U.N.; American Deserters Committee, Sweden; AMEX/Canada.

"The War Resisters League, SANE, Women Strike for Peace, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, National Lawyers Guild, and the Southern Conference Educational Fund are the hard-core pro-Communist groups in NCUA.

With them they have the second line, their peace-at-any price, non-Communist allies such as Clergy and Laity Concerned and Fellowship Reconciliation.

"They have interviewed the Presidential candidates and compiled a list of candidates opposed on total amnesty. They clearly fear the election of a pro-American conservative and report that they have carried their fight to the Democratic platform hearings.

"Good Americans will not fall for their propaganda drive. I do not believe they are about to fall for their anti-American bunk. The American left would have you believe the real heroes are in Sweden and Canada and only the fools went to Vietnam. Americans will never be hoodwinked by this distribe. Americans should find out where the candidates stand on this vital issue.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Unconditional Amnesty is the only way draft evaders can avoid being fingerprinted. Fingerprinting would locate those wanted for criminal offenses.

Doctors Concerned About Flu

Texas doctors have expressed increasing concern about the swine flu (A/New Jersey) immunization program.

"The medical risks probably will be low for patients. But health care providers may suffer from a plague of liability suits," said Dr. Jack Haley, president-elect of the Texas Academy of Family Physicians.

Haley told public health workers here doctors probably will participate fully in the massive immunization in spite of feared legal risks.

Haley predicted pharmaceutical firms and physicians will be major targets for lawsuits. Such claims, he stated, could "prove troublesome at the least," though collections are unlikely.

A New Jersey flu immunizations should prove "low-risk" to patients who are not allergic to eggs, doctors report.

"It now appears the federal government and the Texas Department of Health Resources will be unable to provide liability protection," Dr. Haley said. "Some doctors will have to supervise huge clinics immunizing hundreds of people very quickly. There is no way a physician can personally oversee each injection and still have everyone immunized before flu season."

Haley reported a Texas Medical Association survey shows more than 50 per cent of physicians responding have quit doing surgery and delivering babies, procedures which cause many suits.

The survey showed another fourth of Texas doctors will lose their malpractice insurance within a few months.

Dams Need Repair
Sixty-two Texas dams need major correction, and more than 600 are in need of repair or some changes.

Another 250 have no permits, as was discovered in inspections going back to 1968.

Some steps already are being taken to fix the 62 dams which are in the worst shape.

Leakage and seepage are common. Some spillways are eroded, and caverns have been found beneath Red Bluff Dam on the Pecos River in Reeves and Loving counties.

Leases Draw $5.6 Million
Bonus payments totaling more than $5.6 million were received in a recent auction of University of Texas oil and gas land leases.

Bonus payments and future royalties, in event of production, will go into the Permanent University Fund which now contains more than $800 million.

Nearly 100,000 acres of University lands were leased for oil and gas exploration at the auction last week.

Biggest bonus payment was $410,000 bid by a group headed by Monsanto for a 320-acre tract in Ward County.

Courts Speak

The U.S. Supreme Court established boundary line between Texas and Louisiana in the Sabine River, awarding title to islands in the western half of the Sabine River to Texas. The court also found the middle pass in Sabine Lake was part of the middle-of-the-river line. In effect, Texas picked up 2,000 more leaseable acres.

The top court set for hearing later this year a Texas case involving needed steps to assure racial and ethnic representation on grand juries.

The State Supreme Court held a millionaire rancher owed Cayuga Independent School District $30,686 in delinquent property taxes.

Third Court of Civil Appeals reversed a trial court and directed Comptroller Bob Bullock to hand back $20,000 in sales taxes to a key punch firm which computerizes data as a service to other firms.

AG Opinions

A school district's records on names, sex, ethnicity, salary, title and dates of hiring of employees and officers are subject to public disclosure, along with student achievement test scores and racial-ethnic composition, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The state cannot require the Veterans Administration to obtain a state certificate of need or exemption to construct a hospital.

Date of an offense is the controlling event in violation of probation of a suspended driver's license.

The fee for citation in small claims court is four dollars.

Texas Air Control Board may make public any information which does not relate to secret processes or methods of manufacture even though labeled confidential when submitted. Confidential information may be forwarded to other state agencies and county and city governments but not to the federal government in absence of a federal law so requiring.

TYC Asks Budget Hike

Texas Youth Council's staff has recommended a 45 per cent budget increase, to $87 million, for the next biennium.

TYC asked $3.2 million in additional funds for commitment of juvenile offenders. The six institutions received funds this fiscal period for an average daily delinquent population of 1,080. According to TYC Executive Director Ron Jackson, the enrollment is already 1,301 and is estimated to be 1,406 by 1979.

The council will make its formal budget request July 15 after reviewing the staff figures.

Short Snorts

First joint hearings on 1978-79 state agency

Dear editor:

People have been asking, What's gone wrong with Congress? All those scandals and that sort of stuff, why it's gotten so that if you open your newspaper and don't find a new one splashed over the front page you're disappointed.

I've been thinking about this. Now it's possible that some Congressmen need revising, but above that I've figured is the need to revise Congress itself. It's too shielded from the people.

Look at it this way. Say you have a farm anywhere from 500 to 2000 miles away and you send some hands, ordinary people like the rest of us, up there to work it for you, never get up there to check on it yourself, and depend on reports the hands send back on how well the farm is doing. You reckon it'd be a very good investment? Reckon before long it wouldn't get weedy?

That's the way we operate Congress. We send a hungry, lanky young man up there, pay him $42,000 a year with lots of fringe benefits, give him about $400,000 a year to hire a staff to do most of the work, and before you know it he's eating too much, getting fat and contented, and making holding on to such a job his main ambition in life. Why not? The hours are good, you don't have to show up for work, if you don't want to, you get your picture in the paper, you get interviewed when you fly back to your home district at your employers' expense, and if you stay there long enough—that's the only requirement—you can become chairman of a committee and wield all sorts of power, like telling other Congressmen where they can park their cars.

That's an odd way to run a business. I've been trying to figure out a way to run Congress by a nation-wide television hookup, with each Congressman, after he's gone to Washington to get sworn in, staying at home in his own district where his employers can keep an eye on him. Instead of voting by punching a button from your desk in Congress, buy more wire and put the button back home in your own district.

I'm not sure this'll work.

On the other hand, you've got to admit that these sex scandals coming out of Washington lately ought to at least put a stop to all this talk about our having a do-nothing, impotent Congress.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE
STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: If I die without a will, is it true that my wife would have to get permission from the probate court before she could sell our home and move into an apartment with our children?

A: State law provides that one-half of the community property accumulated by you and your wife during your marriage automatically is transferred to your children if you die without a will. If your home was purchased with your salary or other community income during your marriage, the law would require your wife to obtain permission from the probate judge before she could dispose of any property in which your children had a one-half interest as a result of inheritance from you. These complications can be avoided by having a will which specifies that all of your property will pass to your wife when you die.

Q: If my son is picked up by the police and taken to juvenile court, do we have to provide a lawyer for him?

A: If the juvenile court authorities file a petition seeking to declare your son a delinquent, state law requires that your son must be represented by a lawyer to protect his legal rights during any proceedings involving juvenile court. You, as his parent, are responsible under the law for providing your son legal counsel. If the juvenile court determines you cannot afford a lawyer, the court will appoint one for you.

Q: My landlord said he might lock me out if I fall behind in my rent payments. Can he do that?

A: No, you cannot be locked out of your apartment for failure to pay rent. However, the landlord may change the door lock when your rent is overdue, if he changes the lock, he must leave a notice on the door telling where the key can be picked up at all hours, regardless of whether the overdue rent is still unpaid.

Q: Can I require my husband to move out of our house until our divorce case is completed?

A: Yes. The judge who will consider your divorce decree can issue an order requiring your husband to leave until the case is tried in court. If your husband does not comply with the court order, you may ask the judge to direct the sheriff to enforce the order.

Q: I may have to move before my lease expires. Can my landlord sue me for the remainder of the rent due under the lease?

A: Yes, the landlord can sue and recover a judgment against you for unpaid rent and, if the lease so provides, for recovery of attorneys' fees. If you move prior to the end of your lease and the landlord relets the apartment, the amount of any court judgment against you must be reduced by whatever rent the landlord collects.

Q: I am applying for a mortgage to buy a home. Am I required to purchase homeowners insurance?

A: You will be required by your mortgage company to maintain certain minimum coverages on the property to protect the mortgage company's interest in the property. Although the mortgage company may require certain financial standards of the company from which you purchase insurance, the mortgage company cannot require that you purchase the insurance from a certain agent or a certain company; nor may the mortgage company require that you purchase homeowners insurance. The mortgage company, however, may require fire and extended coverage insurance on the property.

Q: If I buy a new mobile home, am I entitled to receive a warranty from the seller?

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical form; personal answers not possible.

Truck Deregulation Would Affect Rural Deliveries

WASHINGTON, D.C. Thousands of small towns and rural areas across the country may lose interstate truck service if the federal government ceases to regulate the nation's trucking industry, Lee R. Sollenbarger, chairman of the American Trucking Association (ATA) warned today.

A nationwide survey of more than 900 trucking firms, Sollenbarger said, indicates vital small town freight service now required by the Interstate Commerce Commission would be dropped as unprofitable or marginal if that service is no longer mandated.

"I also expect shipping costs in these areas to skyrocket under deregulation," he said. "The total effect annually would be to add millions of dollars to the cost of goods and services in small towns."

The ICC currently requires, as part of its licensing procedures, that interstate trucking firms maintain freight service to all or isolated communities on their routes. This is important to areas where rail water transportation has been discontinued or is unavailable.

"Better than three out of five carriers, if deregulated, would drop small town truck service as unprofitable, according to our poll," Sollenbarger said.

The Ford administration proposed to Congress last fall a general phasing-out of ICC control over the $23 billion-a-year interstate trucking industry, and in May unveiled another deregulation plan. Legislation incorporating the proposals has been introduced to Congress.

But truck deregulation has drawn considerable fire from smaller towns which fear they would lose necessary truck freight service. Last December the National League of Cities adopted a resolution opposing the deregulation plan "since it poses a threat to continuance of service to small communities."

According to Sollenbarger, there is good reason for small towns to be concerned because the ATA poll indicates every state except Hawaii would lose service to some communities.

Hardest hit, he said, "would be the towns of 5,000 or less people."

Four-fifths of the firms responding to the poll also say they believe broad-scale deregulation of the trucking industry would very likely result in temporary rate wars, the failure or bankruptcy of many small truck firms and eventual decrease in transportation services, especially to small communities.

Summer Rose Care Important

Roses are red, violets are blue; if you take care of them, they'll look good for you.

This is the philosophy of Everette Janne, a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He suggests taking good care of your roses in the summer so they will look good in the fall.

"One important requirement of roses in the summer is adequate water," Janne says. "If there's no rain, water them thoroughly at least twice a week. Try to keep the water off the leaves, and if possible, water roses in the morning."

It's also a good idea to fertilize roses with a 10-15-5 fertilizer. Spread the fertilizer evenly around the base of the plants and work it lightly into the soil, advises the Texas A&M University horticulturist.

"If you want a lot of blooms in October, prune rose bushes in August by cutting them back about one-third," suggests Janne.

He recommends practicing a preventive spray program to control blackspot and mildew. Benomyl is a good spray for controlling both these diseases.

Just under half of those polled predict acquisition of small truck firms by large ones would very likely happen as a result of deregulation, and three-quarters foresee an eventual increase in shipping costs to consumers.

More than a third of the nation's consumers live in population centers of 5,000 or less.

"Our concern," Sollenbarger said, "is about deliveries to rural crossroads, country gas stations, or small factories in rural communities. It's not unusual for trucking firms to travel 20 or 30 miles to make a single small delivery, and it's obvious that kind of service would be quickly eliminated if firms are not required by regulation to offer it."

Repeating the ATA's opposition to deregulation plans, Sollenbarger said that more than half the nation's freight now moves by truck and that loss of interstate service to small towns is only one of the severe national economic dislocations deregulation would cause.

Screwworms Can Infect Pets

The United States Department of Agriculture is expecting a heavy buildup of screwworms this year and warning livestock owners to be on the alert. So, you're a pet owner and don't own any cows or horses--so what? Dr. Dennis McIntosh of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association Public Information Committee warns pet owners that screwworms can be their problem too!

Any open sore or cut attracts the female adult screwworm fly. Texas summers cause many scratching dogs and cats and even these small broken skin areas may become infested.

The fly lays eggs on or near the wound and damage is done by the hatched larvae, which look like any fly maggot. These larvae burrow into the live tissue, eating as they go. Sounds horrible, doesn't it? It can be.

The amount of damage done can result in death and, if not this serious, a lot of damage and pain to the infected pet.

Any wound or raw area should be treated immediately. A small hole should be treated--many of these look small, but the burrowing larvae cause large amounts of damage you may not see from the outside. All

Veterinary treatment is important--many of these wounds must be opened and cleaned surgically or they will continue to get worse. Special care and observation of your pets will be necessary as long as hot weather is here.

Yard Bench Stores Easy

Portable benches that will look handsome and fit anywhere in the yard are easy to construct and easy to store when not in use.

The bench seat is made of three eight-foot 2x6s in any easy-to-work western species, such as fir, hemlock, pine or cedar.

The 2x6s are spaced an inch apart and nailed to two pairs of 2x4 crosspieces 15 inches long. Between each pair is an eight-inch long 1x2 that fits in the slot between two concrete blocks standing on end.

The H-shapes formed by the 2x4s and the 1x2s fit around the blocks and hold the bench top securely in place.

The benches are easily moved from place to place in the yard and can be stored in the winter. Or the blocks can be set in the ground or patio for permanent use.

Safe Boating Urged Over Holiday

The July 4 three-day weekend is sure to increase the traffic on Texas roads--and on our water ways. With boat owners numbering almost half a million, Texas Safety Association, in recognition of Safe Boating Week, July 4-10, reminds boaters to keep an eye out for each other.

Each year between 400 and 500 Texans die in drowning accidents, mainly during holiday periods. To assure that your holiday is free from injury, keep in mind these boating safety tips:

*Check to see that your boat and trailer are in tip-top shape before leaving home.

*Always have sufficient life preservers accessible to everyone on board.

*Carry filled fire extinguishers--and use caution when filling fuel tanks.

*Remember that the rules for safe driving apply on the water, too. Hot rodding and drinking while boating are taboo!

*Water safety rules also apply to fishermen, swimmers, and waterskiers who will be enjoying the water along with boaters. Waterskiers, in particular, should remember to confine their skiing to areas where there is no swimming or skin diving; to wear approved life jackets; and, to exercise caution.

Softball Winners Competing

The Cameron CYO boys have won the district in softball. They will now go to Copperas Cove June 27 for the tournament playoffs.

Teams in the playoffs are Waco, Georgetown, Lockhart, Austin, Brenham, Granger, and Cameron districts. Cameron will play the Brenham District Sunday.

Players are Bruce Zarosky, Gary Trdy, Dennis Hollas, Stephen Hollas, Gary Hornung, Chris Glaser, Joey Mondrik, Randy Sapp, Mark Michalka, Mark Darilek, Albert Hanel, and Donald Hanel.

Adult leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schiller and Mr. and Mrs. Ladis Marek Jr.

Top Riders To Compete At MotoCross

Between 300 and 400 riders will converge on the Cameron MotoCross track this weekend to ride and win in the Texas Pro-Am Series.

Saturday will be amateur day, for amateurs, intermediate, and semi-pros with the race starting at 10:30 a.m.

Local riders Saturday will include Eddy Coker of Cameron, in the 125 semi pro race, Grady Butler of Cameron in the 125 amateur race, and David Burgess of Milano in the 250 amateur class.

The winners Saturday will qualify for the nationals.

Sunday the pros will race starting at 10 a.m. Riders will come from all over the United States with some from Mexico.

Winners of these races win points counting for qualifying in the nationals.

Admission will be $5 for two days or $3 for one day. There will be free beer on Sunday.

Tie a small knot at the end of each shoestring after lacing a child's shoe. The child won't be able to lose his laces.

HERALD SPORTS

MURRAY-GO-ROUND

QUICKIES:

Bear Bryant, at the Darrel Royal Golf Tournament at The Woodlands, says he still believes Ara Parsegh-ian will return to coaching. "The unhappiest guy in the world," says The Bear, "is a coach who isn't coaching." Did you know the Aggies have defeated Texas at Austin 11 times in 48 years of basketball? Will Rogers: "Don't let yesterday use up much of today."

Rodeo Set At Bar-1-Bar Saturday

There will be a rodeo on Saturday, June 26 at 8 p.m. at the Bar-1-Bar arena, located nine miles south of Milano.

Events will include bareback riding, bull riding, barrel racing, calf roping, and team roping.

Books will open Friday at 6 p.m. and close at 10. Call a/c 713 396-2978.

Stock producers include Bar-1-Bar and R-4 Rodeo Co.

A dance will follow the rodeo.

REMEMBERED QUOTE:

Bob Osius: "UCLA harvested basketball victories in such great numbers and with such consistency, everyone save UCLA students and alumni rooted for the opposition. It wasn't the classic example of Americans pulling for the underdog. Winning is the name of the game. Just don't win too often. People are funny, aren't they?" Asked by Houston TV Man Bill Worrell if Texas' winning so much had hurt the SWC, Royal was startled. "Us, hurting the Conference? Only the Losers think that."

Pictographs Rare Feature At Park

Thousands of years before the dawn of history, the region where the Pecos and Devil's Rivers merge into the Rio Grande became the focal point of a culture that left a unique legacy of rock painting.

The area, which is now Seminole Canyon State Park, again is likely to become a center of attraction for people of this century eager to learn about those inhabitants of long ago.

Since the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's acquisition of the 1,413-acre park site in Val Verde County in 1973, agency experts carefully evolved plans for interpretation and development. The P&W Commission recently gave its approval to implement the plans.

Some examples of Indian rock art are found in other parts of the state, but nothing like the caliber or scope of those at Seminole Canyon. At least three recognized phases of art, embracing the great span of time, are found here. This archeological site, which was excavated in the 1930s, is described as exceptionally fine and the pictographs rank in importance with the ancient cave paintings of Europe. Fate Bell Shelter #1 is the largest and most painted of the shelters. It is almost 500 feet long and some 75 feet deep.

The Indians who painted the murals are believed to have been gatherers, hunters, and fishermen with a relatively elaborate material culture. The pictures probably had religious significance, and immense effort was spent on them. Ladders or scaffolding were required in many cases and considerable labor went into grinding, mixing, and applying the paint.

A main trail will be provided to assist visitor viewing of the rock art. In the headquarters building a flexible, interpretive display area will present both permanent and temporary exhibits of the different archeological sites and also of the area's natural history. All buildings will be constructed at selected locations judged to cause the least possible damage to the environment, and landscaping will be with native plants only.

An outdoor botanical interpretive area will identify species in a natural way with no planters. A stail system is planned for descent to the canyon floor and there will be a variety of hiking trails.

Survey Set For Texas Alligators

Wildlife biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will be counting alligators from 300 feet above ground next month.

Starting July 7, Floyd Potter and Bill Brownlee will be helicoptering over Texas Gulf Coast marshlands from the Sabine River to Calhoun County counting alligator nesting sites.

The aerial survey is slated to last one week. It is the first time an extensive helicopter survey of American alligators, an endangered species, will be conducted in Texas. The survey will cover 500 square miles and involve a three-man crew.

Brownlee said the aerial survey "will help us get an accurate number of alligators located along the coast." He noted that the aerial survey "is the most accurate method there is for tabulating a nesting population of alligators in marshlands."

Breeding season begins in June, and most of the sexually mature alligators will have completed nest building activities and being laying eggs in early July.

"That is when we will conduct the survey," Brownlee said. Based on research conducted by other states, each nest is calculated to represent 20 alligators, so the total number of nests surveyed can be multiplied by 20 to get the total population in a given area.

In 1975, there were an estimated 40,000 alligators along the Texas Coast.

Ceremony Unites Couple

Miss Sara Kathryn Weston and Edward Lee Anderson, both of Fort Worth, were united in marriage during an evening ceremony Saturday, June 12 at the University Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

Parents of the bride are Rev. and Mrs. Henry M. Weston of Cameron. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver L. Anderson of Fort Worth.

Dr. James G. Harris performed the wedding ceremony. Furnishing the music was Miss Raylene Stewart, organist, Mrs. Phil Smith, pianist, and Phil Smith, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chianti knit. The neckline and sleeves were appliqued with alencon lace accented by seed pearls and rridescents. The bride chose a chapel length veil edged in lace accented with seed pearls and sequins with a matching lace cap which was also embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. The bride's cascade bouquet was of Tropicana roses, miniature carnations, and baby's breath.

Miss Dale Walton of Tuscaloosa, Ala. was maid of honor and Mrs. Sam Alexander of Fort Worth was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Candi Utley of Fort Worth and Mrs. Douglas Leavitt of Corpus Christi. The maid of honor wore a gown of sheer apricot material with a matching wide brimmed hat, while the matron of honor wore an identical gown of yellow. The two bridesmaids were also attired in yellow and apricot gowns. The attendants carried cascades of tropicana roses, baby's breath, and miniature carnations to match their dresses. Small arrangements of carnations and baby's breath adorned the brim of their hats.

Truett Edwards of Fort Worth served as best man. Sam Alexander of Fort Worth, brother of the bride, and Douglas Leavitt of Corpus Christi were groomsmen.

The best man and one groomsmen wore suits featuring apricot jackets and black slacks. The other two groomsmen wore suits with yellow jackets and black slacks. Each wore a carnation boutonniere to match his jacket.

A reception was held following the wedding ceremony in the church parlor.

The bride's table was covered with an apricot taffeta cloth overlaid with a white net cloth which was appliqued with wedding bells by the bride's grandmother. A flower arrangement of yellow gladiolas and apricot carnations decorated a buffet.

Miss Kim Anderson, sister of the groom, registered the guests. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Donnell Perkins of Knoxville, Tenn., cousin of the bride, Miss Marla Morton, and Mrs. Michael Smith, both of Fort Worth.

Out-of-state guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. M. Seale of Birmingham, Ala., the bride's aunt, Mrs. Barbara Hill of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Hill, also of Chattanooga.

After a short trip to the Texas coast, the couple will make their home in College Station where Mr. Anderson is a student at Texas A&M.

Air Conditioning and your electric bill.

The summer months in Texas are that time when the largest factor in most electric bills is operation of air conditioning equipment. On the average, air conditioning accounts for about half of summertime bills.

The most important single factor in holding down the cost of air conditioning is insulation.

Proper insulation blocks out heat. Six or more inches is recommended for attics, three or more inches for walls and two inches around the ducts of central systems. Insulation dealers or a TP&L Service Representative will help you determine the amounts you have and the amounts you may need to add.

Replace missing or worn weather stripping around door and window openings. Caulk around the outside of doors and windows where the frames meet the walls.

You may want to install simple "storm windows" . . . plastic sheeting attached to lightweight wooden frames which completely cover window openings. Awnings will also help.

Keep fireplace dampers closed when not in use. Close blinds or drapes to block out direct sunlight.

Keep furniture and draperies away from air outlets and returns. Clean grills often.

Check filters every 30 days. If you have the permanent type, clean them by manufacturer's directions; if they're the disposable type, replace them when they're dirty.

Have your air conditioning equipment checked seasonally by a qualified serviceman.

Set the thermostat on 78°, or higher. Turn equipment off if you will be away from home for several days or longer.

Baptist Youth Set Conference

DALLAS — About 12,000 teenagers from throughout Texas will focus on the need for a spiritual resurgence in America here July 2-3 on the eve of the nation's bicentennial. "God Bless America" is the patriotic-spiritual renewal theme of the annual Texas Baptist Youth Evangelism conference at the Dallas Convention Center. "The large number of youth attending during a holiday time indicates their concern for a spiritual, moral, and ethical revival in America," said Dr. Lester L. Morriss, director of evangelism for the 2.2-million member Baptist General Convention in Texas.

Credit By Examination Tests Open

Registration opened June 7 for credit by examination tests at Temple Junior College, according to Anice Henderson, director of counseling and testing. TJC offers examinations for college credit in more than 50 courses. The next examination date is July 17 and students must register by June 28. Ms. Henderson said. Students may earn a maximum of 24 semester hours through the credit by examination process. Students who are qualified by experience or previous training may take the special examination, which depending on the course, may be subject area examinations of the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) or TJC's institutional examination.

Students may not attempt credit by examination for any course in which they have been enrolled previously, he said. The tests in any subject may be taken once and the student must score a grade of "A" or "B" on the tests to receive credit. Requests for examinations are made through the Office of Counseling and Testing at TJC. Students making application must pay a non-refundable fee of $20 per single subject matter for CLEP examinations, and $40 for 3 to 5 CLEP examination. The TJC institutional exam cost $15 per exam.

"We will be challenging the youth to become an Army of moral righteousness," Dr. Morriss added. Another emphasis of the two-day conference is Good News Texas, an intensive state-wide evangelistic thrust which will culminate in an extensive media campaign next spring. Morriss said youth will be a vital part of presenting the gospel message to the 4.7 million Texans unaffiliated with any church or synagogue. Program personalities include Steve Davis, the former University of Oklahoma quarterback; evangelist Arthur Blessitt; Frank Pollard, pastor of First Baptist Church, Jackson, Miss.; and Ted Padgett, pastor of Arlington Heights Baptist Church, Fort Worth. At one point in the program, the youth will be given an opportunity to kneel in prayer for national repentance outside the convention center. Immediately preceding the Youth Evangelism Conference, 1,000 participants in a five-day evangelism school will learn to share Christ and to live the Christian life.

FB Plans Commodity Conference

An outstanding array of speakers will address the Texas Farm Bureau State-wide Commodity Conference for Policy Department July 6-7 in Waco. Sessions will be in the Waco Convention Center. County Farm Bureau presidents and chairmen of county peanut, rice, cotton, and dairy commodity divisions are invited to the Waco meeting which will get under way at 3 p.m., July 6. The meeting is being held in preparation for the organization's policy development process which gets under way soon in counties. Local commodity meetings have been held recently in counties to "surface" issues related to those commodities. These issues will be discussed at the statewide conference and recommendations made for consideration at county annual conventions later in the year. Congressman W. (Bob) Poage of Waco, vice-chairman of the U. S. House Agriculture Committee, will talk on the "Farm Program Outlook for 1977" at the opening session. Two Farm Bureau leaders will speak at a banquet that evening at the Holiday Inn on Interstate 35. Bob Eliano, vice-president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and president of the Virginia Farm Bureau, will discuss "National Legislation in 1977." TFB President Carol Chaloupka will speak on "Action Today - Results Tomorrow."

Increased Food Stamp Benefits Due

Households receiving rental or mortgage supplements from the Department of Housing and Urban Development may be entitled to increased food stamp benefits. The Department of Public Welfare has announced that the housing supplements paid under the provisions of the Housing Act of 1937 will no longer be considered as income for food stamp purposes. The change is retroactive to October 8, 1975. This means that all households which have been denied food stamp benefits or have been participating at a reduced rate because of prior policy may be entitled to retroactive benefits or refunds. Further details on the new regulations may be obtained from any food stamp office.

WORLD OF PROMISE

It looks like fun outside. A bright, happy, wonderful day — and a pal to share it with. A world of promise.

As the future unfolds in every life it looks like a world of promise. Whether it lives up to our expectations depends less on what's outside than what's inside. Human character tends to shape the events and experiences of life.

Our tremendous responsibility as parents is to nurture a human soul, foster its spiritual growth, cultivate the crucial development of our child's character.

As a window lets light reach inside, the teaching of moral and religious truth lets faith find its rightful place in each youthful heart. To discover all the Promise in this world the soul must begin by realizing the promises of God.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

This Is Dairy Month... Peaches And Cream...

It's the time of year again to salute the dairy industry of Texas, a vital part of our agricultural economy. Dairymen have long since taken the lead in developing marketing and promotion programs for their products. They have also been innovators in producing a top-quality product.

Milk is untouched by human hands from the time it leaves the cow until you and I open up the carton in our homes. Milk is best described as "nature's most perfect food."

A number of activities are in progress throughout the state recognizing the importance of the dairy industry to the Texas economy. Dairy industry people suggest that we all drink an extra glass of milk every day this month, and then continue that throughout the year.

Although the number of dairymen in the state has been declining in recent years, the dairyman today is still doing business in most parts of the state. East Texas is the home of most of our dairies, with Hopkins County tops in both production and number of milk cows. Other top counties in milk production in Texas include Erath, Wise, Johnson, Grimes, Comanche, Cooke, Archer, El Paso, and Wood.

Counties in the top 10 in milk cows in addition to Hopkins include Erath, Wise, Grimes, Johnson, Comanche, Cooke, Archer, Wood, and Franklin. Texas is among the top 10 states in milk production and number of milk cows, ranking ninth in both categories.

While you enjoy an extra glass of milk every day this month, add to it peaches or other fresh fruit now available to you.

PEACH HARVEST THROUGHOUT THE STATE remains active and a crop about 40 per cent larger than last year is anticipated.

In the Rio Grande Valley, cucumbers, sweet corn, and okra are available in good supplies. At Laredo, melon harvest continues active and onion harvest is virtually completed.

In Central Texas, tomato harvest is underway. Tomato harvest is also underway in East Texas and supplies of sweet corn and snap beans are also available.

The quality of melons is reported excellent in the Coastal Bend area.

MEANWHILE, STATEWIDE WHEAT HARVESTING

continues. Yields of dryland wheat vary considerably and, overall, the crop this year will be about 40 per cent under that of a year ago.

Sorghum conditions vary throughout the state. A good crop is in prospect in Central Texas; planting on the Plains is continuing.

Range conditions have improved throughout much of the state. However, screwworms continue to increase.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCERS ARE URGED to check their livestock regularly, treat wounds on livestock with approved screwworm control remedies, delay surgery on livestock as long as possible, and submit suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission.

Ag Exports Continue To Increase

Agricultural exports continue to increase, and Texas is a big contributor to this foreign trade.

Texas ranks fourth in the nation in farm export sales and leads in exports of cotton, tallow and lard, hides and skin, says Charles Baker, a marketing economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It is also a major exporter of rice, grain sorghum, meat products, citrus and peanuts.

"As a whole, the U. S. agricultural export business, which employs about one million people directly or indirectly and generates more than $50 billion in business activity, has increased significantly in the past three years," points out Baker. "Farm export sales for the period from 1970 to 1972 averaged $8.1 billion a year. From 1973 to 1975 sales averaged $20.4 billion a year, and farm export sales for 1976 should reach $22 billion."

Baker notes that one of the main reasons for this jump is an increase in grain and wheat shipments to the Soviet Union. "The volume of agricultural exports for 1976 should exceed 100 million metric tons which would be a 20 per cent increase over the 1975 farm export volume," says the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Exports of grain, wheat, and soybeans make up about 90 percent of this volume."

As far as agricultural imports are concerned, their value for 1976 is expected to be about $10 billion, a slight increase over 1975 due mainly to higher values for coffee, cocoa, crude rubber, and spices, Baker explains. Thus the U. S. agricultural trade balance, the difference in the value of agricultural exports and agricultural imports, for 1976 is expected to be about $12 billion, slightly below the 1975 balance.

Cen-Tex Farmers Invited On Tour

RENNER

Blackland farm operators throughout North Central Texas have been invited to a review of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station research and a program featuring top Southwest scientists on July 8 at the Texas A&M University Research & Extension Center.

The announcement came from J. G. Dobbs, Grandview, chairman of the Blackland Income Growth Program, an agricultural growth program for the Blacklands of Central Texas, sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A number of Center research plots are being opened for the first time for this exclusive tour by BIG visitors and guests.

In extending the invitation, Dobbs pointed out that Huey Whitehurst, Superintendent for the Dallas Center, with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Uel R. Stockard, district Extension agent, had spearheaded the program activities.

Whitehurst and Stockard emphasized that the entire program for the July 8 meeting had been planned with BIG visitors and guests in mind.

"This year, research plots in cotton and sorghum have been located in a special area to enable scientists to report on research in progress, cite results of past work and enable Blackland Operators easy visual inspection of progress in crop production practices," they said.

Revolutionary developments in grain sorghum research will be viewed including yet-to-be-marketed twin-seeded sorghum seed stock. Other research will include variations in row spacing, plant spacing, fertility levels, and foliar feeding.

Cotton research will include the latest developments in new disease and insect resistant varieties, early planting and early maturing varieties, and studies in row spacing, fertility levels, and rotation programs.

Emphasis will also be given during the day to forage production including studies with Callie Bermudagrass. Also, Fescue and coastal research will be presented.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m., the program will include a barbecue lunch at noon and will end at 2:30 p.m.

"The program will be of interest to all the agricultural community," Dobbs said. "This would include all government agencies, agribusiness representatives and, of course, other business and civic leaders throughout North Texas."

Tours of the research plots will be made beginning at 9:50 a.m., preceded by registration and free coffee.

"Beyond the Horizon In Texas Agricultural Research" will be the topic of the noon program presented by Dr. Jarvis Miller, director, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Pine Popular

Pine has pushed into the lead among cabinet woods, ahead of oak, walnut, maple and pecan in that order, states an industry source.

Briscoe Lauds Agriculture At Stiles Field Day

THRALL

Gov. Dolph Briscoe lauded the accomplishments of Texas' agricultural industry here June 15 at the annual Stiles Farm Foundation Field Day and called for the building of a better life for every Texan.

Briscoe told the Central Texas crowd of some 2,000 people that "agriculture is essential to the strength of this nation and the preservation of the American way of life. Thus we need additional research for agriculture to make it more efficient and productive. The demonstrations of agricultural research such as you have here at the Stiles Farm is also vital for an efficient and productive agriculture."

The governor added, "Agriculture today has great challenges as well as tremendous opportunities. In Texas we have the potential to be the Number 1 in the nation not only in agricultural production but also in profitability."

Looking at the nation and Texas in general, Briscoe commented, "We must look forward with dedication to the future and to our system of government which depends on the participation of each individual. We have a unique heritage in Texas and the best economy of any state in the nation. We need to look to the Texas of 10 to 20 years from now and to plan a capital reserve fund so that this state will have a fiscally sound government in the years ahead."

Promising no new taxes for at least the next two years, Briscoe emphasized, "We must live within our means and plan adequately for the future. Texas can become the financial center of the United States because this state has unlimited opportunity."

Briscoe was introduced by Clyde H. Wells of Granbury, chairman of the Texas A&M University System Board of Regents.

At the beginning of his address, Briscoe lauded the youth of today as the finest in the history of the state and made special reference to 10 Central Texas high school graduates who had just been recognized as recipients of a $500 Stiles Farm Scholarship.

Those recognized were Frances B. Button of Thrall, Robbi Daves of Austin, Thomas D. Faught of Blum, Louis E. Harding of Manor, Jeffery W. Hinesly of Leander, Peggy L. Huckabee of Kosse, Edward L. Schneider of Marlin, Anthony A. Sigle of Taylor, and Charles A. Bordovsky and Jay A. Whitaker, both of Jaxell. They were introduced by Texas A&M University Dean of Agriculture Dr. H. O. Kunkel.

The Stiles Farm which covers some 3,200 acres was placed under the trusteeship of the TAMU Board of Regents in 1961. Members of the Board who were present at the field day in addition to Wells were H. C. Bell Jr. of Austin, and Richard A. Goodson and Alfred I. Daves, both of Dallas.

Other special guests included State Senator Bill Patman of Ganado and State Representative Dan Kubiak of Rockdale.

Earlier in the afternoon field day visitors had an opportunity to tour crop and livestock enterprises on the farm and heard discussions on narrow-row cotton, minimum tillage, fast growth bermuda grasses, and growth implants for cattle.

Educational booths were set up at the farm headquarters and dealt with a variety of subjects. A large equipment display was also featured.

A&M Field Day To Highlight Ag Research

Agricultural research dealing with the major crop and livestock enterprises of Texas will be highlighted at the fourth annual Texas A&M University Plantation Field Day July 1.

This year's field day will take place at the agricultural research complex north of the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine on Farm Road 60 and will include the aquaculture research work on the plantation just off of Farm Road 60 about 10 miles west of College Station.

Registration and the start of the field tour will be at the U. S. Department of Agriculture Toxicology Lab north of the veterinary college complex, announces Dr. Fred Miller, sorghum researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and tour coordinator. Working with Miller in planning the tour and field day is A. A. Melton, manager of the TAMU Plantation which is headquartered some 12 miles southwest of College Station on Farm Road 50.

Registration will begin at 3 p.m. and tours will follow at 3:30 p.m., with tour groups leaving in 15-minute intervals. A catfish dinner sponsored by agribusinesses in the Brazos Valley will be served from 5 to 6:30 p.m. at the aquaculture research location off Farm Road 60. The tour will feature four main stops -- the USDA Toxicology Lab, pest management and insect control, the Institute of Tropical Veterinary Medicine, and aquaculture research. Field visitors will also have an opportunity to see and hear about research under way as the tour passes numerous field plots and laboratories. These will include dairy cattle research, sorghum utilization, nematode studies, cotton evaluation, brush and weed control research, sorghum downy mildew studies, turfgrass research, Foundation Seed production, cotton genetics, the Cereal Quality

Lab, forest science research, the Cotton Improvement Lab, and the Foundation Seed Service.

Educational booths will be set up at the aquaculture research location which is the final stop on the tour. These booths will feature information on swine, sorghum, cotton, insects, weed control, marketing, catfish farming, and the Feed and Fertilizer Control Service.

A 10-minute call to San Francisco doesn't take a lot of dough.

For just $2.44 or less, you could take down these recipes by Long Distance.

We're printing these recipes to make a point: a Long Distance call lets you say so much, for so little.

In a 10-minute phone call to San Francisco, between 5 p.m. and 11:00 p.m. tonight, you could take down the recipes below. And by dialing 1+, the most you pay is $2.44, plus tax.

So enjoy a pleasant visit tonight by Long Distance. Whether you call to get a couple recipes... or just to find out what's cookin'.

1. SOURDOUGH STARTER

1 package active dry yeast
2 1/2 cups warm water (105° to 115°)

1 cup instant nonfat dry milk
2 tablespoons sugar
4 cups all-purpose flour

a) Stir yeast, water, dry milk and sugar in 2 1/2 quart crock or non-metallic bowl until yeast is dissolved. Stir in flour gradually until a smooth batter forms. Let stand loosely covered in warm place, 3 to 5 days. Stir down batter occasionally. Store loosely covered in refrigerator.

b) Replace exact amount of starter used for each recipe by stirring equal amounts of homogenized milk and flour back into starter. (For example, replace 1 cup starter with 1/2 cup homogenized milk and 1/2 cup flour). Let stand loosely covered until it bubbles, overnight. Stir down. Each time this process is repeated, the starter becomes more active and develops a more sour flavor. Note: If stored as much as two to three weeks between usings, just pour off the watery layer on top and replace following procedure in (b).

2. SOURDOUGH BREAD STICKS

1 cup instant nonfat dry milk
1 cup warm water (105° to 115°)
1 cup Sourdough Starter (see Recipe No. 1)
2 cups all-purpose flour
3 tablespoons vegetable oil

2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 to 1 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

a) Mix dry milk, water, Sourdough Starter and 2 cups flour in non-metallic bowl, cover loosely. Let stand in warm place until mixture is coarse and bubbly, at least 8 hours.

b) Mix oil, salt, sugar and baking soda into sourdough mixture. Stir in enough of the remaining flour to make dough easy to handle. Knead dough lightly on well-floured board, about 2 minutes.

c) Roll dough into rectangle, 15 x 10 inches, on well-floured board. Cut into fifteen 1-inch strips. Roll each strip into even round strand, about 14 inches long. Double strand over and twist to form bread stick. Place bread sticks on greased baking sheet, brush with melted butter. Cover with plastic wrap. Let rise in warm place until double, 1 to 1 1/2 hours.

d) Heat oven to 375°. Bake bread sticks until golden brown, 30 to 35 minutes. (Makes 15).

RECEIVES PROMOTION - Lella L. Thomas, a member of the United States Army Nurse Corp and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel J. Thomas Sr. of Cameron was promoted to the rank of Captain on May 17. She is a 1969 graduate of C. H. Yoe High School and graduated from Prairie View A&M University in 1973 with a BS degree in nursing. She has served a one-year tour at Walter Reed AMC, Washington, D.C., a three-month tour in Hawaii at Tripler AMC, and is currently on tour at Reynolds Army Hospital in Fort Sill, Okla. Pinning Captain Thomas is Col. Hathaway, chief nursing service, and Col. Birk, deputy hospital commander at Reynolds Army Hospital.

NEW VERSION OF CAKE AND ICE CREAM - Ice Cream Cake is a new version of popular cake and ice cream desserts because the ice cream is mixed with the cake batter, according to the Texas Department of Agriculture home economist. Ice cream topping, sour cream and chopped pecans top the baked cake to make a delicious summertime treat.

from the TAP kitchen

Texas Department of Agriculture John C. White, Commissioner

ICE CREAM CAKE

1/2 cup butter
1 pint (2 cups) vanilla ice cream, softened
2 eggs
1-1/2 cups all-purpose flour
2/3 cup sugar
1 tsp. baking powder

1 tsp. salt
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup sour cream
1 cup caramel ice cream topping
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Whipped cream, if desired

In 3-quart saucepan, melt butter; remove from heat. Add ice cream, eggs, flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and graham cracker crumbs. Mix until smooth. Pour into a greased 13 x 9-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. While cake bakes, combine sour cream and caramel ice cream topping. Pour over warm cake. Top with chopped pecans. Cool cake and cut into squares. If desired, top with whipped cream. Yield: 20 squares.

For additional dairy recipes send a postcard request to Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Major Companies Seek TSTI Chemical Grads

A nationwide survey of chemical technology programs at 12 post-secondary technical schools indicates that Texas State Technical Institute graduates are the most sought after by major chemical companies.

Robert Krienke, chairman of chemical technology at State Tech, conducted the four-year study as part of his dissertation research. Technical-vocational schools surveyed were located in Rhode Island, New York, South Carolina, Washington, D. C., Mississippi, Missouri and California.

Chemical technologists assist chemists in laboratory research and often times find themselves performing regular duties of a chemist, Krienke said.

"Ostensibly chemical technologists function more as para-chemists, studying corrosion, electron plating, lubrication and strength of adhesives, just to name a few duties.

"But until recently chemical technology programs at colleges and universities were directed at preparing students for teaching and not providing much laboratory expertise," Krienke said.

Because of the emphasis on laboratory practice, many graduates of technical schools are finding themselves in charge of all laboratory research, once they are employed by a chemical company. Chemical technology at State Tech is a six quarter program, with most of the 108 hours spent in the laboratory.

Krienke said, "We (State Tech) teach analytical chemistry, as opposed to classroom theory."

Support courses include math, physics, technical writing and computer science. "Surprisingly enough," Krienke said, "only half of our students are high school graduates. Of those graduates, 14 per cent had no high school chemistry and 76 per cent had only one year."

There are 28 students in State Tech's chemical technology program. During their fourth quarter students will go into the field and receive on-the-job training. Krienke said the majority of these students are paid enough to finance their education.

An advisory committee, comprised of leaders in the chemical industry, serves as watchdog for the program -- developing an up to date curriculum and keeping faculty advised of what industry needs.

Committee members include representatives from Dow Chemical Co., Owens Corning Fiberglass Corp., Monsanto, Alcoa and Universal Atlas Cement.

"Our graduates are in demand primarily because of the program's reputation, which is propagated throughout industry by committee members.

"Along with the committee, we have experienced faculty that provide many contacts in the chemical industry. Our five instructors average 15 years experience," Krienke emphasized.

Krienke's research showed that 85 per cent of the program's graduates -- since the survey began in 1972 -- received at least two job offers. Eighty-five per cent still are working at their first job.

Mrs. Ottea Purchases Downtown Shop

Mrs. Louese Ottea, former manager of the Jean Marie Shop on the downtown mall, has bought that shop and the Jean Marie shop in Hearne.

Mrs. Ottea has changed the names of both shops to "The Clothes Line," and will still carry Jean Marie brand clothes, with additional brands in both women's and junior wear. The junior line is new for the shop.

Her staff includes Mrs. Martha Freeman and Mrs. Shirley Crook at Cameron, and Mrs. Barbara Brewer and Felicitia Ottea at Hearne.

Air Force Changes Enlistee Standards

ARLINGTON

The height standard for men and women enlisting or being commissioned in the Air Force has been revised.

The new requirement will be the same for both men and women. Minimum height will be 60 inches and the maximum will be 80 inches. Previously the minimum for men was 58 inches and the maximum was 74 inches. The men's standard was not changed.

The new standard is effective for individuals who commit themselves after June 30 to join the Air Force.

COME TO THE FunFair Fiesta

Citizen's National Bank is marking its 76th birthday with a south-of-the-border celebration, and everyone is invited.

The FunFair Fiesta begins June 21 and ends July 16... that gives you plenty of time to register for the Grand Prize... 4 days and 3 nights in romantic Acapulco for two. Hotel and roundtrip airfare from San Antonio paid.

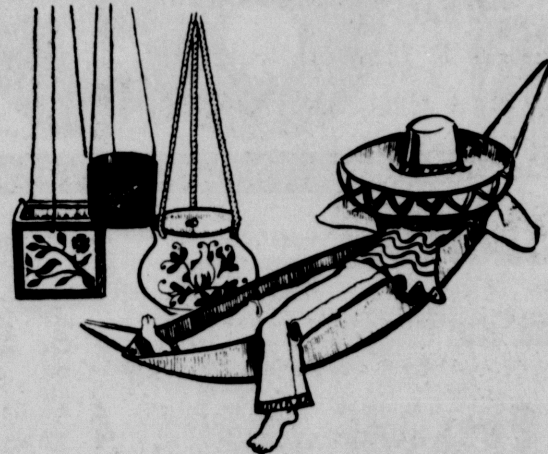

There'll also be 4 weekly drawings where you can win a comfortable Hammock... a great way to enjoy a siesta while your savings grow at the Citizens.

And that's not all... make a deposit in a new checking or savings account or an existing savings account and you can select your gift of beautiful Stoneware Hanging Pottery with cactus plants.

The Citizens has Pinatas, Balloons, Pennies in a bottle for the kids... and coffee and cookies for everyone.

It's Fun, it's a Fair, it's a Fiesta and it's the Citizens way of saying thanks for 76 years of serving you.
